First I didn't want a very complicated story mainly because we only had 1 week to complete this task.

The plot of the story is that the person goes for a bike ride in the morning. Then as we get to the middle of the story they arrive to their destination where they relax and enjoy the day.

Finally at the last drawing they ride back home.

As for my ten quick observational drawings

I tried capturing intimate moments where maybe two people are having a heartfelt conversation or they are just relaxing a long day. It was pretty hard to catch these moments mainly because not many people stayed still.

Overall I am happy with the process and that

I explored a different medium for my final outcome than a pencil. I just wanted to have fun with this and really explore just coloring in and seeing what happens. And how the colors give a feeling to the story.
